"God's Remedy For Sin," was Rev. B. B. Crimm's subject at the Baptist revival in the tabernacle at 7:30 o'clock last night. Mr. McKee announced a song. The great choir opened the meeting by singing song 64 with inspiring enthusiasm, led by Mr. A. W. McKee. Mr. McKee is a great singer himself and he knows when folks are singing, and during the revival the folks of Bryan will have the pleasure of listening to him sing as well as listen to his great choir sing songs that will stir your heart. The evangelist's message last night was one of much power. His scripture he read from the 3rd chapter of "John." The revival has gotten to the place where men and women are thinking as never before, it is said, and big men are becoming concerned about their soul's salvation. Last night as Rev. Crimm made his first call 72 responded. It was a beautiful scene and was very impressive. The scripture as read by Mr. Crimm is a message within itself. If he had not uttered a word other than reading the scripture he would have brought a good message to his hearers. The evangelist said in part: "Last night I talked to you about the inevitable Result of Sin. Tonight I am going to talk to you about God's Remedy For Sin." If I were a doctor and I were to go to see a patient and after I found what was the matter with him I would not want to have to say, 'you have a dangerous complication. You are going to die. There is nothing that will help you.' I would not want to say that. This is what I would want to say, 'there is a probability of you having a dangerous complication but I want you to know that I have a remedy for it. I would want my friends and patients to know that I had a remedy for everything they could have. My friends tonight I know a doctor who is able not only to heal the body but to heal the sickness of the soul: You will notice from my scripture, there was a question in Nicodemus' mind. Nicodemus was a smart man, he was a 'Ruler of the Jews,' but there was a mystery about Jesus' teaching that he could not understand, and so he went to him by night (he was interested) and said to him, 'Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God; for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.' Jesus answered and said unto him, 'Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God.' You say, 'Mr. Crimm that is a physical impossibility.' I say, 'yes, but I am not preaching a physical religion. I am preaching a spiritual religion, the New Birth is a physical impossibility but a spiritual necessity. You cannot get into the Kingdom of God without it.' You say, 'Mr. Crimm I don't understand it.' I don't either. I know I got it but that is all I know about it, and that is all any fellow knows about it. It is something that no one understands. If we could understand it there would be no need of faith. We would accept the thing by knowledge and we would not need faith. You get it by simply trusting in Jesus and he will save you. Jesus said to Nicodemus, 'The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the spirit.' But after all this Nicodemus did not understand and Jesus said to him, 'Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?' Nicodemus you have been educated in our schools and you have been trained all during your life and now you are a ruler of your people and yet you do not know about these things. Listen: I am not going to preach on the divinity of the Christ, there is no use. If you have lived this long and in a land of churches and you do not know anything about the divinity of Christ, I am not going to take the time to fool with you, you haven't got sense enough to be a christian, but Jesus did not become impatient with Nicodemus. He continued with him by giving him an illustration. He said, 'Nicodemus you remember the story of Moses and the Children of Israel yonder in the wilderness?' Well there came a time when God punished his children for not doing his will and he sent snakes into the land to torment them, and the people appealed to Moses for help, and Moses went to God with his troubles, (the place to go with them), and he said: 'God if you do not remove the serpents and heal the suffering of thy people, take my life or remove my name from your blessed book,' and God said to Moses, 'I will not remove the snakes, but, I will give you a remedy for their bites. And he said to Moses, 'Go and make a serpent of brass and then hold it up high and let the Children of Israel look on it.' You will notice the 14th verse, 'And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.' That is my remedy for sin."

EDGE WILL HAVE A MODERN TEACHERAGE AND NEW AUDITORIUM

Edge, Brazos County, March 14.—On Saturday last, March 11th, Edge voted bonds sufficient to build a modern two-story teacherage and a new auditorium large enough to seat 60 people. The election was an exceptionally quiet one but carried by approximately two thirds majority. Edge has made up her mind that her boys and girls shall have as good a school as any other boy and girl. She knows it costs money and she will have to pay for it and that times seem tight for the farmer but she believes economy that starts with the school is on the wrong end. She believes that the times and conditions facing the future generations makes it absolutely necessary that the boy and girl of today be given every advantage that comes through the most efficient education. Edge is, therefore, determined to take the lead in rural education in this entire section of the state.

(By Associated Press.) Waco, March 15.—Judge H. M. Richey today entered an order in the case of Mrs. Inez Crow against Sheriff Bob Buchanan for $50,000 damages growing out of the killing of her husband, Louis Crow, at Lorena on the night of October 1st amending the previous order and suspending the transfer of the case to Bell county pending appeal of defendant on question of authority of Judge Richey to transfer the case on his own motion. It was alleged by Mrs. Crow that Sheriff Bob Buchanan stabbed and killed her husband during the Ku Klux Klan parade and that Mr. Crow was not in the parade or had anything to do with it.

Took It Under Advisement. (By Associated Press.) Austin, March 15.—Judge James R. Hamilton took under advisement indefinitely the matter of the motion made by Foreman Gregg of the grand jury here citing for contempt of court J. D. Copeland, police commissioner, and F. G. Reynolds, clerk W. O. W. fraternal order, alleging the two men refused to answer a question concerning the membership of them and others in the Ku Klux Klan when they were called before the grand jury in connection with the investigation of the killing of Peeler Clayton, a night jitney driver, here last December.

Austin K. K. Investigation. Austin, Texas, March 15.—That the grand jury of Travis county has under investigation the Ku Klux Klan was made certain today when the grand jury reported to District Judge James R. Hamilton that J. D. Copeland, city police commissioner, and F. G. Reynolds, clerk of the local camp of the Woodmen of the World, who had been summoned as witnesses before the jury, refused to answer questions propounded by the grand jurors. Copeland and Reynolds, under instructions of Judge Hamilton, were summoned into court and questioned. Copeland refused to answer the questions if he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, who are the officers of the Ku Klux Klan, or who are members of that organization. In answer to a question Copeland said he did not personally know of the sending of any threats in Austin by the Ku Klux Klan. He said he was not present at the time Peeler Clayton, service car driver, was shot on the night of Dec. 15, 1921. Following the questioning of Copeland, Judge Hamilton propounded questions to both Copeland and Reynolds. Both declined to answer whether or not they knew of threats sent out by the Ku Klux Klan; if they had heard such threats talked. They said that they had not heard any member of the Ku Klux Klan discuss the killing of Clayton.

Copeland and Reynolds stated to Judge Hamilton that they were standing upon their constitutional rights in refusing to answer certain questions. A. Gregg, foreman of the grand jury, insisted that Copeland and Reynolds be compelled to answer the questions, declaring that the information sought was important in the investigation being conducted by the grand jury. District Attorney J. B. Robertson announced: "We want the questions answered, and we have offered both of the witnesses immunity with approval of the court." Whether the court is empowered to compel the witnesses to answer the questions, Judge Hamilton said he desired time in which to look up the authorities. He announced that he would make a decision tomorrow morning.

Bootleggers Are Numerous. Bootleggers and hijackers are so numerous in Austin that Texas Rangers under Capt. Frank Hamer have been ordered to investigate here by Adjutant General Barton. It is said in certain circles that the law is not being enforced on account of many immaterial contests going on at the state capitol. The State University where 4,000 Texas boys and girls are attending school and other state institutions are here which makes it important that the local officers enforce the criminal laws without any subterfuges.

THE BIG SHORTAGE IN INCOME TAXES GOES OVER QUARTER BILLION

(By Associated Press.) Washington, D. C. March 15.—Receipts of income and profits taxes due today in the opinion of treasury officials probably will show a decrease of more than $300,000,000, as compared with collections by the government during March of last year. Secretary Mellon estimates that the first installment of taxes on incomes and profits for 1921 will amount to $460,000,000, as against more than $727,000,000, taken in by the government last March for the first installment of taxes on the year 1920. The estimate for the first quarter of the present year, Mr. Mellon said today, is subject to uncertainty because of the shrinkage in business and profits during the calendar year 1921. Against the $460,000,000 expected tomorrow, the treasury has outstanding about $530,000,000 in treasury certificates of indebtedness maturing March 15, but has also a new issue of certificates of the same date to the amount of about $250,000,000.

He voluntarily retired four years ago after serving twenty-two years in the National congress at Washington. There are grave questions affecting the future destiny of the nation that need mature and unselfish consideration in the lawmaking body and Congressman Slayden by his long experience in public life and ripe experience would be a valuable man in congress at this time.

A Dallas man and woman remained in jail the other night to be safe from "the mob". Wonder why they didn't think of all this before they got into trouble?

The Eagle is anxious to know what Sam Miller will say now to Sam Hill when they meet at the State Rotary convention next week at Mineral Wells in the Palo Pinto hills.

Home enterprises deserve your patronage. Their owners are of and for McKinney. Think twice before you send your money off to a mail order house or outside concern.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

After awhile when all the movie actors get $1,000,000 salaries their divorces, murders and scandals will take all the first pages. However, Joe Taylor, Sunshine Joe Webb and George Bailey will not be here at that time.

As long as Eugene Debs can keep the Socialist party alive and contributing, he will never go to work. The walking delegate who is making trouble in this country (for all people) should set a new vision of his duty. Go to work.

Fake advertising schemes are doing irreparable injury to the newspapers especially in the smaller towns. Wise business men should support their newspapers and cut out the fakers. This is the only way to build up the legitimate business of the town.—Fourth Estate.

It would be a wise thing for the people generally to remain away from the gambling schemes in New York and other cities. Especially should the people of Texas and the south refrain from supporting the fake cotton brokerage firms of New York that continually go on the rocks.

The Eagle is always more than pleased to publish any endorsement or favorable comment on the work of Bryan or Brazos County citizens who are able and willing to perform service for the general good. All should be members of the "Flowers For the Living Club."

The Eagle understands it has been criticised for publishing words from newspapers regarding the work of Bryan citizens who are able to do something for the upbuilding, advancement and prosperity of the town. This is rather small business for a big man.

Texas newspaper folks will learn with regret of the serious illness of Mrs. Lee J. Rountree at Bryan and with joy that she is showing much improvement now. "We hope," wrote Judd Mortimer Lewis from Houston "her recovery will be rapid and that in Denton in May we shall find her the same girliehearted woman we have all grown to love."—Will C. Edwards in Denton Record-Chronicle.

Sunshine Joe Webb, of Waco, in speaking of the killing (we won't say murder) of William Desmond Taylor, at Hollywood, says: "Wouldn't it be terrible should posterity have to struggle along without ever knowing the identity of the owner of that pink nightie found in the home of the slain movie director?" The salaries are so large at Hollywood that ladies send pink nighties to their gentlemen friends as souvenirs—at Hollywood. Cheer up, Joe.

Rev. Bertie Bridges Crimm who declares he is not a modern evangelist but an old-time preacher of God's gospel, preached a great sermon at the Tabernacle in Bryan Friday night. Nearly 2000 people were present and many were standing. He declared the churches must meet their real duties to properly take their place. Rev. Crimm gave some great doctrine to the people. It was a wonderful service.

SOME CHEERING NEWS.

The Reporter notes with pleased interest a news item in the Bryan Eagle to the effect that Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, wife of the editor of that paper, is making a nice recovery from a recent severe attack of pneumonia. We don't know of anything that has ever happened to Lee about which he is more to be congratulated, than this cheering bit of news.—Jno. E. Cooke in Rockdale Reporter.

"LEST WE FORGET".

Our venerable friend, J. O. Bradfield of Austin sends us a box of beautiful flowers with the following message: "To Lee J. Rountree, Bryan Texas, I am sending you a few flowers lest we forget—J. O. Bradfield." Brother Bradfield belongs to the old guard and is an ex-Confederate soldier, and one of Hood's Texas brigade who fought at Sparta, at Gettysburg and in the Wilderness. The remembrance is deeply appreciated and we are expecting Mr. Bradfield in Bryan next June at the annual reunion of those glorious survivors of Hood's Brigade, and we shall not forget.

LETTER FROM GOVERNOR NEFF

Governor's Office, Austin, Texas, March 10, 1922.
EDITOR LEE J. ROUNTREE, Bryan Eagle.

Dear Friend:—Every few weeks for some time, I have read splendid editorials in your paper in behalf of law and order, and commending my efforts along that line.

I appreciate very much your very kind reference to me in my effort to create a little higher respect in the State for the law. Your editorials have been helpful in many ways. I am sure they will bear good fruit in behalf of good government in your county and section. When I can serve you, advise me. Your friend.

PAT M. NEFF, Governor.

COSTS TOO MUCH TO SERVE IN THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE

(Judge J. Felton Lane, Editor Hearne Democrat)

Editor John Rutherford of the Franklin Texan remarks: "We see that newspaper men are running for the legislature in many counties of Texas and it looks like we will have to run Judge Lane of The Hearne Democrat for the office from Robertson county. The Judge would make a good representative and as we have no one in the race at this writing we think it would be a good idea for him to toss his hat in the ring." The Eagle hopes Judge Lane will go to the legislature.—Lee Rountree in Bryan Eagle.

We thank you, brothers, for the kind compliment and there is no place we would covet more than to be a member of some law-making body, where we might use whatever slight talents we may possess, and whatever little influence we could command, in behalf of "The Forgotten Man." If we ever get out of debt, for that is the monetary kind of debt, for we never get out of debt to our friends, and to the public and to the Good Lord, and get as much as one dollar and a half ahead to flag the wolf away from the door, we are going to us our hat in the ring for membership in some legislative body; and as everybody is trying to be a senator or a congressman or some hisup dinary, it would suit us just as well to serve in the "lower house" of the Texas legislature, for we believe that there is more need and more opportunity for real service there, that will come close to the men and women of Texas in their daily lives, than in the halls of congress in far away Washington; but we can't go yet awhile, as the compensation provided for one to give up his business and serve at Austin is such that only a few wealthy men, and a few who want to become wealthy, can afford to make the sacrifice. Others go that cannot afford it.

Some day a just and enlightened public opinion will readjust the compensation for the service rendered by those in the public service and of those serving the public in private pursuits. Under our 1876 constitution members of the Texas legislature do not receive enough compensation to pay their actual personal expenses. At present, there are many county officers in Texas who make more money than the salary of Governor, and precinct officers who take in more in fees of office in one month than is paid a member of the Texas Law Making body for an entire two year term.

In private pursuits, we pay some cheap comedian, with little brains and less character, ten times the salary of a justice of our appellate courts. Some chefs and cooks in our big hotels receive more money than college and university presidents in Texas.

Many kinds of so-called "skilled laborers" are paid more than the teachers of mathematics or languages or history or sciences in our schools and colleges. Movie actors are paid more money than the president of the United States.

A handsome salesman in one of the city stores, weighing about ninety pounds crated, but who is a neat dresser and a good talker, and whose photograph must accompany his application for the place in many of the largest and most successful stores will draw down more money than is paid to the lawyer who writes and probates our wills, examines our land titles, and handles the most important financial matters for us while living and for our loved ones when we are dead.

There are many trades in which the supposed highly skilled expert will get more actual cash out of his occupation than a hard worked country doctor, who rides night and day, wears out an automobile a year, and who has spent a fortune to qualify himself to diagnose and treat our ills and ailments. The shorter hours we work and the less we do the more pay we get. The farmer, who feeds us all, has to leave his farm and get him a job in town to get enough money to buy his family some clothes and to pay his taxes.

But don't get discouraged Brother John and Brother Lee. If we make as rapid progress in the next hundred years as we have in the past hundred years, and we will do as well or better, this will be a bully old world for our great grandchildren to live in and it is a pretty good old world to live in now, only needs considerable overhauling. Anyway, we can't go to the legislature.

There is a place in Waco called Sandtown. Negroes wearing No. 13 shoes carrying a 17-inch razor and a 45-calibre six-shooter are frequent characters in Sandtown. Wish they would go to Boston.

One of the hopeful signs of the times is that more persons are figuring on buying property than at any time in the past four years. Of course generally speaking all property and home building is high but to purchase and pay for property makes better citizens. The country must save the cities from destruction and there are several silver lining streaks in the clouds.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

The gentleman from Kemp, Texas Mr. R. Y. Bowly, announces that he is a candidate for governor against Governor Pat M. Neff. Mr. Bowly has a very catchy platform, including the establishment of several new state institutions, including a new Agricultural and Mechanical College and a new College of Industrial Arts. He failed to favor a new state university and a few more state normals, as a vote catcher. Mr. Bowly failed also to tell us his remedy to secure money enough to improve and support the educational institutions we already have commensurate with the needs of Texas. Just at this present time every real wise business man (and Mr. Bowly claims to be that) is more concerned how to support our present schools and institutions without launching more. The wise man will go about seeking a real remedy now rather than complicate the affairs of state by establishing new institutions without adequate support. Mr. Bowly perhaps is not well versed in statecraft, or the problems of a serious nature now confronting Texas, and will no doubt be wiser when the campaign is over. He no doubt lacks the experience necessary to make a success of the state government, otherwise his platform is a pretty good one. Many men have their theories about a business they know nothing of and oftentimes a man is a safer business man who can successfully run a small business than the man who wrecks a railroad.

Colonel E. M. House declares for a universal language. The Eagle seconds the motion and offers an amendment that we have universal service patriotism and reverence for righteousness. "Faith without works is dead."

Weary Willie Waterhouse, of Walla Walla, Wash., en route to Hearne and Bryan to see his friends J. Felton Lane and Lee J. Rountree, stopped over in Rockdale for a brief visit with The Reporter editor.—Rockdale Reporter.

The Dallas Times-Herald says: "Who remembers the unfashionable old times when son liked to stay at home of nights and play a game of checkers with father?" Pshaw, George, father is down town before dark ready to jazz are run an auto race on the high road and the boy wouldn't know where to find father. Already father has had a new sign put up "God bless our car." This is a new age.

The Dallas Times-Herald says: "Cloudy and cooler is a common weather forecast. It also represents the attitude of our banker when we try to get that note renewed." "An observant citizen of Bryan remarked the other day to the Eagle that the seasons were changing and there was more cloudy and cold weather now in the supposed Spring time than heretofore. We have a banker friend in Bryan who declares he will loan you the money to buy a Super-six, provided you will pay the note and give him a back wheel as a souvenir. You ought to be happy as you will not then spend all your time and money having been nowhere and going nowhere. Cheer up.

Coach D. X. Bible of A. & M. College, while on his way to New York for the meeting of the football rules committee was tendered a banquet by the Purdue athletic council. Purdue athletic authorities have been endeavoring for some time to induce the Aggie coach to come to their school and go over their coaching system with them in an endeavor to find out if possible why the Boiler-makers can't win at football. Bible diagnosed the football situation of the Indiana college while there. He has received many offers to coach that Western conference contender. Bible was also the honor guest at the basketball game in which the Boiler-makers won the conference title.—Waco News-Tribune.

Dr. F. M. Bralley, president of the College of Industrial Arts, Denton, Texas, has mailed to the members of the Texas Press Association a panoramic view of the college with the students thereof in group. The picture is 41 inches long, 9 inches wide, shows the college buildings in the background, situated on a beautiful landscape, and the group contains photos of 1,500 to 2,000 happy, pretty smiling maidens, each one appearing to say to the boys of the Texas Press, "Come and see me on May 11, 12, 13." No group of words could have formed a more irresistible invitation, and we predict for the Denton meet one of the largest attended and most enjoyable ones within the history of the Association. It will be one in which education, the one force that can lift the world to peace, happiness and moral perfection, will be foremost in the thoughts of those present.—Anahula Progress.

MR. BOYETT TO BEAUMONT.

Engineer Horace Boyett, who for the past several years has been county engineer of Brazos county, resigned that position some time ago, and has accepted the place of County Engineer of Jefferson county, with headquarters at Beaumont. Mr. Boyett entered upon his duties in his new field on March 1st.

TREE-LINED HIGHWAY FROM COLLEGE-BRYAN NOW BEING PROPOSED

How would the proposition appeal to you to have a tree-lined highway from College to Bryan? It is understood that under the contract with Brazos county the company must before December 10, 1922, put the highway in good condition under the 5-year contract. The Eagle suggests that the question of making this one of the enduring roads of Texas be seriously considered and that Dr. W. B. Bizzell, Dean J. C. Nagle, Dr. B. Youngblood, A. D. Jackson and others of College be consulted to the means and methods of improving, beautifying and perpetuating this highway and make it a tree-lined road. The Eagle understands that recently a committee was appointed by a mass meeting in Bryan as follows: Mrs. J. Webb Howell, of the Bryan Woman's Club; Mrs. Dora Wilson, of the Reading Club; Mrs. S. C. Williams of the Parent Teachers' Association; City Manager E. E. McAdams, County Agent C. L. Beason and Lee J. Rountree. Statly pines, oaks, pecans, yaupon and other trees will grow along this route it is stated. While we are spending our time and money why not do something enduring? The city, state and federal governments will aid in the work and many patriotic citizens of Texas will join in it as it leads up to the portals of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, destined to be the greatest institution in the world.

(Gainesville Hesperian)
R. C. Carson, machinist at the local Santa Fe shops, died at the Santa Fe hospital in Temple Saturday night March 4th, of a complication of stomach and gall bladder trouble, after an illness of two weeks. The entire medical staff of the hospital were unable to trace the direct cause and called in other noted surgeons of Temple, all of whom were at a loss to determine the real cause of Mr. Carson's illness. Roe C. Carson was born at Bryan Texas, July 7, 1879, and was a graduate of the Texas A. & M. College. He was married to Miss Minnie Ratcliff of Bryan October 6, 1902. ## CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones did the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all drugists.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. YARDLEY OF HARVEY

The sad and unexpected announcement of the sudden death of Mrs. W. D. Yardley, at her home in the Harvey community, on Thursday, March 9th at 7 p. m., has brought sorrow to her many friends in Bryan and over Brazos county. In her usual health Mrs. Yardley had been out for the afternoon, visiting her neighbor women as was her custom, as she, with a splendid christian character, and a sympathetic and loving heart, was a blessing to all around her. Late in the afternoon she returned to her home and went about her house affairs when, without warning, she was stricken with heart failure, and died before medical aid could be summoned. She was a life member of the Baptist church, and a loving wife and mother, and in her death, the Harvey community and the entire community is bereaved of a noble christian woman. ## A MOVE TO PROTECT INNOCENT PURCHASERS

(For the Bryan Eagle)
Bryan, Texas, March 11.—What I wish to express is that in order to protect the public in the future against further heavy losses caused by unscrupulous stock and cotton brokers, it might lead to some good solution of the problem if a few influential men and newspapers would point out to the government that there seems to be a way to safeguard all parties concerned.

This is to require of each Stock and Cotton Exchange as a whole to stand responsible for all their member brokers. This is done by not a few of the leading Exchanges in the old world. It not only protects the investing or trading public, but it elevates the normal standing of the Exchanges and makes it near impossible for "get-rich-quick" schemers to enter and spread their spider webs at all. (Signed) A. CITIZEN.

REVEREND CRIMM AND DR. OLIVER GO ON FOX CHASE FRIDAY NIGHT

After the services at the Tabernacle Friday night, about 11 o'clock, Evangelist Bertie Bridges Crimm, accompanied by Dr. W. H. Oliver, George Smith and Bill Oliver, went out for a fox chase. They had about thirteen of Dr. Oliver's fine fox hounds and during the night the dogs "struck the trail." But in the gray dawn of the morning, it faded out and the party returned to Bryan for breakfast.

Rev. Crimm is president of the Texas Fox Hunters Association, with headquarters at Jefferson and Marshall.

The association is nationally known for its great hunts in North and East Texas. Dr. Oliver said in speaking of the chase early Saturday morning: "We only wanted to get the fox on a tree where we could see him and let the dogs see him. A real good fox hunter and a true sport never kills a fox." In being pressed about the killing of foxes, Dr. Oliver continued by saying: "Well, they destroy lots of animals and things that are a drawback to the country and ought not to be killed. Then, when you see a fox and let him go, you can perhaps see him again after a great chase. If you kill him then that ends the fun." Governor Neff held the same thing on the Bassett opossum hunt recently and absolutely refused to slaughter the opossums when they were lined up for execution and to be eaten.

SMALL FIRE SATURDAY.

C. G. Parsons' warehouse on the I. & G. N. tracks had a small fire at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Both fire trucks responded to the alarm and the flames were put out without material damage.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE
CHARLES FOREST GANDY

(For the Bryan Eagle).

Wellborn, Mar. 13.—Little Charles Forest, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gandy, died Sunday morning, March 5, 1922, after an illness of only forty-eight hours. He was the joy and pride of the home with his golden curls, violet eyes and sweet, winning ways. But the Saviour says "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for such is the kingdom of Heaven." To the soul borne down by insufferable woe, words are hollow and meaningless things. Only those who have drunk the dregs of life's bitter cup can have an adequate conception of the agony endured by those who have sustained the loss of a dear little one. The bereaved family have our heartfelt sympathy.

We realize the burden laid upon them seems greater than they can bear, but in the darkest hour of affliction when the hand of our Master seems upon us, the angel Hope draws aside the celestial curtain and a flood of light illumines our heart, and we see beyond the present, with its surging seas of sorrow. We see across the years when we shall join those loved ones, those dear ones who have gone before. Yes you will meet him whom you so recently laid away—him in whom was centered the hopes and ambitions of your life, him for whom you strove so hard to maintain.

His quiet, gentle disposition endeared him to all he met, and in his childish way, he lent a joy to life. He was one of nature's fairest flowers and Heaven had the need of this blossom for Saints, these blossoms, upon their garments wear. We know he has gone where the weary are blessed and the mourner looks up and is glad.

A FRIEND.

ROBERT BARROWS HELPS
EXTINGUISH FLAMES

Robert Barrows, a negro employed at the First National Bank extinguished the fire which was burning; up the clothes of Sam Jones, another negro, when he saw Jones struggling to put out the flames, at the Brazos county garage Tuesday afternoon.

Barrows was standing at the door of the Court house when he saw Jones assisting Kuben, a white man, to put out the flames on Marion Deason's another white man, whose clothes had caught fire when he had lighted a match on his gasoline-soaked trousers. Jones' clothing caught fire while trying to help Kuben put out the flames on Deason's clothes.

Barrows ran to the garage and pressed his coat against Jones' clothes, but this had no effect on the flames and he got water with which he put out the fire on Jones. Kuben extinguished the flames from Deason's clothing after jerking said clothing from Deason's body. Deason has been confined to his bed since the accident, due to the severe burns he received. Both Kuben, the white man and Barrows, the negro, deserve credit for quick action in helping their fellow-man when in distress.

LIVING ON A LIQUID DIET FOR MONTHS BEFORE SHE GOT TALLAC.

DYSPEPSIA AND OTHER TROUBLES
QUICKLY OVERCOME
AND HEALTH NOW SPLENDID
—LOOKS TEN YEARS YOUNGER

"When my wife began taking Tallac she had been living on liquid food for a long time, but now she eats anything she wants and everything seems to agree with her," said J. G. Randall, 2408 Cedar Springs, Dallas, Texas.

"I don't believe she knew a well day for three years and I was very much worried about her as I could just see that she was dwindling down in weight and losing strength every day. She complained a good deal too, of her heart fluttering and we thought she had heart trouble of a serious character, but we now know that it was entirely from her stomach. Tallac was exactly what she needed. She says she feels fine now and certainly she looks better and younger by ten years."

Tallac is sold in Bryan by N. A. Stewart and all leading druggists.—Advertisement.

LEONARD SCHOOL IS FORGING TO THE FRONT

The Leonard school is still going ahead. It is to send a stock judging team picked from the vocational class to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. Friday night there was a box supper at the school house to raise money to help pay the boys' expenses and provide funds for needed equipment. Secretary S. E. Eberstadt sold the boxes, and as Rev. Crimm would say, "Sam is some auctioneer." He got the money necessary. The teachers, Misses Norma Bell and Lola Jones, desire the highest credit for the success of the supper. They had advertised widely so that the house was full and the interest high.

MAN'S TROUSERS ON FIRE RESULT STRIKING MATCH LIGHT CIGARET

Marion "Butch" Deason, who works at the Brazos county garage, has "sworn off" smoking cigarettes. He had a little accident Tuesday that changed his mind. While pouring gasoline into the tank of a county truck he got his trousers wet with gasoline. A moment later he struck a match against his trousers, to light a cigarette and his pants caught fire. Deason tried to extinguish the flames by rolling on the ground, but failing in this he ran out of the garage in the direction of water. The seat of his pants was aflame and Frank Kuben, who works at the same place grabbed Deason's trousers and tore them off, leaving the latter stark naked in the street. Deason sustained severe burns and has been confined to his home since the accident. Kuben's hands were burned when he caught hold of the flaming trousers.

NO FLU EPIDEMIC IN CITY BUT MANY CASES

"There is no influenza epidemic in Bryan at this time, but many people are suffering from the disease," Dr. J. W. Black, the Public Health Officer of Bryan said today. "Because those taken down with the flu are confined to their homes, and not to the hospital, it is impossible to make a correct estimate of the number of people suffering from it."

JUDGING TEAMS NOW BACK FROM FAT STOCK SHOW DID GOOD WORK

The stock judging teams which represented Smetana, Leonard and Steep Hollow schools returned from the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth early Tuesday morning. The Smetana team, composed of Louis Wehrman, Willis Merka and Henry Kosarek was in the seventh place when all results had been tabulated. Although there were thirty-two teams competing, the Smetana boys proved themselves superior to all but six teams, and lacked only fifteen points of being fifth place. Steep Hollow had the bad luck of one man withdrawing because of his being sick. Had it not been for this Steep Hollow team would have ranked eleven or twelve. The Leonard boys worked like Trojans and proved themselves superior to several teams. The Group B. Vocational boys had a dandy time along with their work. Brazos county ought to be proud of them.

LITTLE ANECDOTES ABOUT BRYAN TOWN

(By J. S. McNeel, Jr.)

The prettiest match of the finals was between Jarvis of Texas A. and M. and Craddock of Texas University. The two heavyweights were almost perfectly matched. Craddock got the decision but it appeared at one time that the gold medal would go to the Aggie man. After the tussle Jarvis told Craddock, "You are the strongest man in your legs I have ever met." And Craddock replied, "Yes, and you have the strongest arms of any man I have ever met."

Dubinsky's show one week a revival the next and a request that Wortham's shows be allowed to appear in Bryan the following week. With that program the average "man in the streets" is kept jumping. It seems to do him good.

I wonder how many people saw how beautiful Main Street looked covered with sleet during the recent freeze? The whole thoroughfare was white that morning—few pigeons, early risers, were the only living things on the streets. The sky was pearl grey.

HORSE WILL COME BACK FOR WAR-TIMES

Houston, Texas, March 15.—Airplanes, tanks, motor trucks and other mechanical whatnots of war will never replace the horse in warfare, declared Major General W. A. Holbrook, chief of cavalry, United States army, at a dinner given here in his honor last night by Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters. General Holbrook said that the fact that General Allenby's brilliant conquest of Palestine in the world war was mainly a cavalry achievement was not generally appreciated. Cavalry will again come into its own, he predicted, for though a horse can not travel as fast or pull as much as motor apparatus, it can go where motors can not and has the advantage of being able to live off the country when forced to. General Holbrook left for Brownsville last night. During the war he was commander of the Southern department of the army, including Texas.

WAS WHISKEY STILL IN MADISON OR LEON?

Houston, Texas, March 15.—"Was the still in Madison county or in Leon county?" was too close a question Saturday for J. W. Floyd, federal prohibition agent. Over the long distance telephone, Mr. Floyd notified D. A. Simmons, assistant United States district attorney, that it appeared to him to have been "right on the line." To solve the problem Mr. Floyd said he had employed a surveyor to go over the ground and decide definitely in which county the still was located. He said he had the location of the still definitely fixed.

On the outcome hinges the case of three charged in Federal Court here with illegally manufacturing liquor. If the still was in Madison county, the Federal Court of this district has jurisdiction. If it was in Leon county the Federal Court of the Western district has jurisdiction. Trial of the case before a jury was held up here Friday pending the outcome of the investigation.

The Bryan Building and Loan Association will in the next ten years prove to be the greatest factor in making permanent improvements and home building in Bryan. It means much for the future.

The ballot will be announced at the annual meeting.

SUBLIME TRIBUTE.

(Judge J. Felton Lane, editor Hearn Democrat)

We do not know whether Editor Lee Rountree of the Bryan Eagle ever passed the portals of any college or university or not; we never asked him, nor do we care; but by travel throughout the world, and thought, and voraciously reading everything he could get his hands on for many, many years and he is still going stronger he has come to be a writer of renown, one of the most widely quoted writers of the Texas press. Mrs. Rountree is just convalescing from a critical illness with pneumonia in Bryan Hospital, and their sweet devotion to each other, and their beautiful faith and trust in God, as expressed in the following article, is well worthy of reproduction in this time of general laxness and irreverence:

"IN THE HOSPITAL."

(By Lee J. Rountree)

Night had fallen and electric lights placed the grey gloom of the lowering clouds as the rain gently pattered on the roof of the hospital. It was the closing hours of the Holy Sabbath day, the shades were being drawn so that the sick and the weary, the suffering and the dying could rest. Clear and hopeful the great church bell across the street rang out, bidding all to come to the House of God to worship. "What is that so church bell?" asked the weary sufferer as she lay with her poor, broken body suffering and distressed. The awful fever had abated and she could hear the bells and see the flowers sent her by loving friends and home to be well again. "It is the first time I've heard it in a long time. I hope they will pray for me." In all the ages the call of prayer has been the refuge in God's eternal promises—that He will not forsake us in the storms, the mountain tops, the peaks and the crags in the ocean's roar and out on the vast and limitless plains God hears the prayers of His people and speaks to the deep of their souls. It has been so through all the ages. When Stonewall Jackson, the knightliest of his race was dying on the battlefield with his face toward God he prayed: "Let me pass over Death's river and rest under the shade of the trees." With that eternal prayer he met his Pilot face to face. After Henry W. Grady had returned from Boston and had delivered his great speech to the world setting forth the purposes and hopes, ambitions and devotion of the people of the South in the dark days of reconstruction along the lines of the "New South" he was dying in the hospital at Atlanta with pneumonia and while the head of his heroic gray-haired mother was resting on his breast in the last hour he prayed: "God, you and mother will not desert me when my feet are in the river." The great and the strong, the powerful and the good have always remembered that God would not forsake His children and offered the prayer of redemption that rings true, strong and enduring throughout eternity "where no storms ever beat on the glittering strand and the years of eternity roll." When the church bells rang out upon the dying Sabbath as the clouds of night came on the noble woman voicing the everlasting and undying faith of God's children since the world's creation she said "I hope they will pray for me," words mighty, powerful, deep and eternal more enduring than the earth is the refuge of prayer made glorious, eternal and undying by God's promise to His children who have lived, hoped, labored and loved for all time.

The Harvey club members will have a regular meeting of their club Thursday at 12:30 p. m., immediately following their "union" lunch to which the Harvey teachers will be invited.

Edge club will have a similar meeting Friday at noon, and the College Consolidated school club will have a "union" luncheon and meeting next Monday at 12 o'clock. Of course, when you talk "lunch" County Agent Beason will be present.

The Club at the College Consolidated school has elected the following officers: Paul Boriskie, president; Miss Frankie Mae Hoynk, vice president; Miss Eloise Smith, secretary. Club leader, yell leader, and reporter to be chosen at next Monday's luncheon.

Much of the corn planted before the freeze will have to be replanted, especially that which was not up at time of the freeze. Thus far but little favorable weather has there been for corn planting, and yet March will determine, largely, the corn crop of Brazos county.

Many farmers like to plant in the water furrow, but a great deal of the land is too cold and wet now for that. Those who plant on the bed do so principally, as a matter of drainage. The "Williamson method" advocates planting on a level in wide rows and then run a center furrow with shovel or sweep to give drainage in event of excessive rain. A little extra plowing, but it is claimed that the plan is conducive to a greater yield of corn.

FARMERS WANTED—They average 800 pounds pinto beans per acre in central New Mexico. Corn, oats, cane, turnips, onions, etc., raised in abundance, dry farming. Land $3.00 per acre and up. We need wide-awake farmers. I will be in Bryan about ten days, if interested call 776 or write HOMER A. STUART.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Lucile Rosprim, club member in the College Consolidated School, sends in a splendid report of her poultry industry during the month of February. Lucile is partial to the Barred Rocks, and she says that she has birds as fine as money can buy, and judging from the report sent in to the county agent one must conclude that she has some very fine birds of the Barred Rock variety. Her report shows that from 12 pullets she sold during February eggs to the amount of $13.10 besides using 45 for her own use in setting. She adds: "Feed cost me, 47 pounds of grain, 94 cents; 43 pounds of mash, $1.16 1-4; 3 1-2 pounds oyster shell, 7 cents; one bale of straw for litter 65 cents; total feed for February $2.82 1-4, leaving $10.27 3-4 net profit on the 12 pullets for the shortest month in the year." This young poultry raiser has all her birds numbered and trap-nests each bird, and a record carefully kept. Not only that, but the following extract from her interesting letter shows that she is keeping "tab" on the pedigree of her flock: "These birds are from dams that laid two hundred eggs and over in their first year, and sired by a sire that is valued at eight hundred dollars. This sire is out of a dam that laid two hundred and forty-eight eggs in her first year of laying, and for many generations back of her nothing laid under two hundred and forty eggs." That is a good report. Lucile, and we congratulate you on the fine record you are making. You are also to be commended for offering to make special prices to club members desiring settings of eggs from your flock.

Miss Gertrude Hamilton of the Edge school wins the prize offered by County Agent Beason for the best story of the lecture by Mr. Kazmeier at Edge during the recent "movable" poultry school. Miss Hamilton sends in a very interesting story, which shows that she was an attentive listener to the splendid address by Mr. Kazmeier.

Mr. Gabe Cazell, an agriculturalist on his suburban home, on Route 3, was very much pleased with the assistance rendered by the county agent in terracing and drainage work this week. Other good terracing work is being done in the Steep Hollow community on the farm of Mr. Jim Tobias.

A few people will, sometimes, plow down their terraces, which have been poorly built, or maintained, but eventually they will turn back to the terrace, or move to a new farm. Some times it is a choice between a terrace and a curved row, or poor land and a straight row. "Choose well, your choice is brief yet endless."

Mr. J. E. Boog-Scott, of the State Livestock Sanitary Commission, stated at the recent Banker-Farmer Congress, College Station, that the co-operative livestock commission recently established at St. Louis, had taken the lead in the amount of business done by the many commission houses in St. Louis. He is a strong advocate in co-operative marketing as an essential to the greatest success in the livestock industry in Texas. There were 2,031 co-operative associations established among farmers in the Southern states last year.

According to report of the States Relation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year of 1921 county agents in the Southern states conducted 230,819 field demonstrations on 2,274,534 acres, the average yield on demonstrations was from 50 to 100 per cent above the average yield on general crops in the same territory. Live stock production was encouraged with the result that, through the influence and advice of county agents, farmers purchased 69,877 head of pure bred stock and 41,393 head of grade stock, conducted over 25,000 feeding demonstrations, started 9,000 new herds, treated over 3,000,000 head of live stock for disease, to say nothing of terracing, drainage work, etc., and ten thousand other items which can never enter into reports.
